

Select Rehab Advertorial

Park Central residents have a wide variety of needs. Providing residents with the highest quality of care and making it convenient for residents is possible because of Park Central's relationship with affiliate providers that can provide care right on campus.

"Park Central knows the importance of quality therapy for our residents," said Bob Smith, Title at Park Central. "That's why we work with the talented team at Select Rehabilitation."

Select Rehabilitation is dedicated to providing on-site physical therapy to meet the needs of Park Central residents.

"Our highly skilled staff members provide more than just greater mobility to their patients," said John Doe, Title at Select Rehabilitation. "They provide an enhanced quality of life and overall wellness."

Select Rehabilitation uses patient-focused and goal-oriented practices to allow patients to get the most out of every session.

"We want our patients to have as much independence as possible," said Doe. "With aging, surgery, and a variety of health ailments comes a wide variety of challenges that our team works to help our patients overcome."

But Select Rehabilitation doesn't just provide high quality physical therapy. They also offer occupational and speech language pathology.

"For residents with neurological disorders such as strokes, dementia, Alzheimer's disease, or Parkinson's disease, they require more than just physical rehabilitation," said Doe. "We want to address these needs as well, and that's why we offer occupational and speech therapy services."

Smith said that providing rehabilitation care that is high quality and convenient is paramount.

"Having to travel off campus for such a crucial service was a problem we really wanted to solve," said Smith, "which is why Select Rehabilitation services are provided right on campus and can even be provided within a resident's home."

Smith said that Park Central is proud to provide and maintain an improved quality of life with the right care, right here for all of their residents. Any residents or family members who would like more information are encouraged to speak with any Park Central staff member.
